Holy Week Services Announced

Holy Week is being observed at the Church of Religious Science, 907 Knob Hill Ave., through Friday with services at 2 p.m. in the sanctuary. These services have been designed to help people prepare to live the "life more abundant," according to the Rev. Frank E. Richelle, minister.

Easter services at 9 and 11 a.m. are titled "Except A Man Be Born Again." Included will be traditional Easter music, and a solo, "The Holy City," by Annette Smith. The congregation will join in "Christ, The Lord, Is Risen."

At Christ the King Church

Veiling of the Cross To Close Good Friday

The ceremony of Veiling the Cross will be performed Friday evening at Christ the King Lutheran Church, 2706 W. 182nd St., as Good Friday services close.

A large wooden cross, placed in the Chancel area in front of the altar, has been in the church since the beginning of Lent to remind members that "The Cross Is the Key." In special ceremonies, members of the Board of Deacons and the pastors will veil the cross as a symbol of Christ's death on Good Friday.

The veil will remain until Easter Sunday morning.

Sunrise services will begin at the church at 6 a.m., according to the Rev. Elmer E. Christiansen, senior pastor, with the unveiling of the cross. The cross then will be draped with the white cloth which is symbolic of the resurrection.

Worship services also will be held at 8 and 11:15 a.m. The Rev. John C. Walker, assistant pastor of the church, will preach at the Sunrise service on the theme, "Dawn of a New Age." The Rev. Christiansen will speak on "Our Living Faith" at the 8 and 11:15 services.
